SUPPLEMENTAL INFORMATION DISCLOSURE STATEMENT

Commissioner for Patents
P.O. Box 1450
Alexandria, VA 22313-1450

Sir:

Pursuant to C.F.R. §§ 1.97 and 1.98, enclosed please find a completed PTO Form 1449 citing documents submitted for consideration during examination of the above-referenced patent application. A copy of each of the documents listed on the attached PTO Form 1449 form is also enclosed. Pursuant to the provisions of M.P.E.P. §609, Applicants request that a copy of the PTO Form 1449, marked as being considered and initialed by the Examiner, be returned with the next official communication.

This Supplemental Information Disclosure Statement ("SIDS") is being filed more than three months after the filing date of the above-referenced application. An office action has not been received, and thus no fee is believed to be due in connection with this SIDS. If any fee is deemed to be due, please charge it to Deposit Account No. 50-0549.

This SIDS encloses a number of litigation documents. U.S. Patent No. 6,743,758 B2 (the “‘758 patent”, parent to the present application) and U.S. Patent No. 6,495,494 B1 (the “‘494 patent”, grandparent to the present application), both assigned to Ecolab, are currently the subject of pending litigation in the U.S. District Court, District of Minnesota. The litigation is captioned Ecolab, Inc. v. JohnsonDiversey, Inc., Case No. 0:03-cv-02231. Plaintiff Ecolab commenced the litigation by asserting infringement of the ‘494 patent in a Complaint filed March 7, 2003, followed by a Motion for Preliminary Injunction filed March 28, 2003. Defendant JohnsonDiversey, Inc. (“JohnsonDiversey”) filed a number of memoranda and declarations in response, and cited several patents and other documents as allegedly invalidating the ‘494 patent. The District Court issued a Memorandum, Opinion and Order on May 29, 2003 (“District Court Decision”) denying Ecolab’s Motion for Preliminary Injunction, based at least in part on the District Court’s construction of the phrase “water-miscible lubricant”. The Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit issued a decision on April 6, 2004 (“Federal Circuit Opinion”) reversing the District Court Decision. The litigation is presently in the discovery stage.

During prosecution of the application (the “‘559 application”) that eventually became the ‘758 patent, the undersigned attorney met in an in-person interview with the Examiner to discuss an Office Action, cited references, a draft amendment, and some of the patents that JohnsonDiversey asserted in the litigation as invalidating the ‘494 patent. The interview took place on October 22, 2003. The attorney described to the Examiner the litigation and issues raised, and advised the Examiner that an SIDS would be submitted in the ‘559 application to cite information and documents from the litigation and documents cited in an Ecolab patent prosecuted by another law firm. The Examiner requested that the SIDS include only patents and other documents that might qualify as prior art, and that the SIDS not include pleadings, memoranda and motions submitted by the parties or the District Court Decision. The Examiner pointed out that these various court papers would not qualify as prior art and could not form the basis for a rejection.

An Amendment, Terminal Disclaimer under 37 CFR 1.321 and a Request for Two Month Extension of Time to Reply were filed via facsimile in the ‘559 application on October 29, 2003. An SIDS citing and enclosing copies of 52 patents and 12 other documents was filed via mail in the ‘559 application on the same day. As requested by the Examiner, the October 29, 2003 SIDS included all patents and other documents from the litigation that might qualify as prior art under 35 USC §102.

A further SIDS identifying the litigation, enclosing a copy of the Complaint and PACER system Docket Report, and offering if desired by the Examiner to provide copies of any of the other papers filed in the litigation, was filed via facsimile on November 13, 2003.

The '559 application issued as the '758 patent on June 1, 2004. Ecolab amended its Complaint to assert infringement of the '758 patent on June 10, 2004.

JohnsonDiversey filed an Answer and Counterclaim to Plaintiff's Amended Complaint ("Counterclaim") on July 2, 2004. The Counterclaim alleged, inter alia, that the '758 patent was unenforceable due to inequitable conduct by the undersigned attorney and others for failure in the '559 application to submit or to provide the other court papers not included in the October 29, 2003 SIDS. Ecolab and the undersigned attorney believe that JohnsonDiversey's inequitable conduct allegation is improper, and are opposing it. Meanwhile pursuant to the first paragraph of MPEP §2001.06(c), applicants are bringing JohnsonDiversey's inequitable conduct allegation to the Examiner's attention.

This SIDS includes copies of the District Court and Federal Circuit Docket sheets, District Court Decision, Federal Circuit Opinion and various other court papers and exhibits from the litigation. Particulars concerning JohnsonDiversey's inequitable conduct allegation may be found, for example, in paragraphs 72 through 173 of the Counterclaim. A list of allegedly withheld material information may be found in paragraph 144. Assertions that applicants did not advise the USPTO of a dispute over the meaning of the phrase "water-miscible lubricant" may be found in paragraphs 159 through 173.

To further assist the Examiner, the dates of the court papers and exhibits enclosed with this SIDS (and the dates of other exhibits not enclosed with this SIDS but submitted in the present application in a November 18, 2003 Information Disclosure Statement ("IDS") or submitted in the '559 application in an April 17, 2001 SIDS) are as follows:

Most of the items referred to above:

- a) were submitted in the November 18, 2003 IDS, or
- b) are dated after the June 16, 2000 effective filing date for the present application.

None of the items referred to above are believed to identify with particularity any assertions made by applicants in the litigation that would be contradictory to assertions made by applicants to the Examiner responsible for the '494 patent and '758 patent. Applicants do not believe they have made any such contradictory assertions.

As to some of the remaining items referred to above:

- a) Item Nos. 13-B and 13-C are both believed to be unpublished Diversey S.p.A., JohnsonDiversey, Inc. or DiverseyLever, Inc. company documents (see e.g., the Rouillard Declaration, Item No. 13, numbered paragraph 12 at pages 4 – 5).

- b) Item No. 13-D is believed to be an unpublished South Eastern Containers Corp., JohnsonDiversey, Inc. or DiverseyLever, Inc. company document (see e.g., the Rouillard Declaration, Item No. 13, numbered paragraph 14 at page 5).
- c) Dicolube TP has been alleged by JohnsonDiversey to have been offered for sale in the U.S. prior to June 16, 2000 but is believed not to have contained both a water-miscible silicone material and a water-miscible lubricant (see e.g., the Kennedy Declaration, Item No. 14, numbered paragraphs 9 and 12 – 14 at pages 3 – 4 and Item Nos. 14-A through 14-C).
- d) Dicolube TPB has been alleged by JohnsonDiversey to have been offered for sale in Europe prior to June 16, 2000 but is not believed to have been known or used by others in the U.S., patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country, or in public use or on sale in the U.S. prior to June 16, 2000 (see e.g., the Kennedy Declaration, Item No. 14, numbered paragraphs 6 – 12 and 16 – 19 at pages 2 – 5).
- e) Item No. 14-D is believed to be an unpublished Diversey S.p.A., JohnsonDiversey, Inc. or DiverseyLever, Inc. company document (see e.g., the Kennedy Declaration, Item No. 14, numbered paragraphs 16 – 18 at pages 4 – 5).
- f) Item No. 14-E is believed to be an unpublished DiverseyLever, Inc. internal workshop presentation made in Germany (see e.g., the Kennedy Declaration, Item No. 14, numbered paragraph 19 at page 5).
- g) Item No. 16-P is believed to be an unpublished European Patent Application (see the European Patent Office's Online Public File Inspection service at <http://ofi.epoline.org/view/GetDossier?dosnum=&lang=EN>).
- h) Item no. 22-1 is believed to be an unpublished Diversey S.p.A. company document (see e.g., the Stanga Declaration, Item No. 22, numbered paragraph 9 at pages 4 – 5).

The District Court Decision and Federal Circuit Opinion are being separately submitted under MPEP §2207, so that they can be placed in the patent file in any event. If desired by the Examiner, applicants can provide copies of any of the other papers filed in the litigation (e.g., interrogatories and responses, deposition transcripts, and the like) and not already included with this SIDS, subject to applicable confidentiality restrictions. The Examiner is also invited to contact Applicants' Representative at the below-listed telephone number, if there are any questions regarding this SIDS or if any other assistance is needed during prosecution of the present application.

Respectfully submitted on behalf of
